The 'Hot Rap' system is based on a combination of lightweight film adhered to a profiled corrugated board to form a receptacle to eat from. The uniqueness of this application is that it can be microwaved or put in hot holding units. The board element adds insulation against high temperatures while holding a hot savoury product such as sausage rolls, pasties and meat pies straight from the hot cabinet. More over, as with all RAP's products, it is ergonomic to eat from. The 'Hot Rap' range can be stored in a hot cabinet at 80°C for a period of time, while keeping the product as tasty as when it went in.

Rapid Action Packaging has produced a range of lightweight cartonboard packs for sandwich packaging which use a thin laminate to keep the moisture in the food inside the pack so that it does not dry out. RAP are a member of OPRL and have had our Freshpack sandwich packs assessed by WRAP and confirmed as widely recycled under OPRL's current guidelines, meaning that the entire pack may be disposed with cartonboard in the majority of recycling facilities in the UK. In addition to the ability to recycle the new Freshpacks, they also offer a lighter pack than other cartonboard packs sold for the same purpose. A typical cartonboard sandwich pack weighs around 17gms. RAP's cartonboard sandwich pack was already the lightest on the market with a typical weight of 13gms. The Freshpack further reduces this to a little over 11gms. This means that, even if packs are not recycled, the amount of waste is still significantly reduced over using alternative cartonboard sandwich packaging. RAP Freshpack gives both weight reduction and recyclability, reducing landfill, disposal costs, the products overall transport and materials carbon footprint.
